Welcome to Mississippi…

“The Hospitality State”

Mississippi’s past is a warrant for every visitor from the past to the present and to the future. It is the home of the Civil War, the Delta, and the Deep South. Mississippi is rich in history and culture, with sites such as the Mississippi State Capitol, Old State Capitol, and the Delta Heritage Center. Mississippi is also known for its natural beauty, with the Mississippi Delta, the Mississippi River, and the surrounding Ozarks. Mississippi is a land of opportunity, with a growing economy and a diverse population. Mississippi is more than just a state, it is a way of life. Welcome to Mississippi, the Hospitality State.

Miles of Modern, Beautiful Highways

Mississippi’s Highway System is one of the most extensive and well-maintained in the nation. The system includes over 11,000 miles of roads, including highways, interstates, and scenic byways. The Department of Transportation and Public Facilities (TDPF) is responsible for maintaining and improving the state’s highway system. The TDPF is committed to providing safe and efficient transportation for all Mississippians.

Mississippi Office of Tourism

The Mississippi Office of Tourism is a state agency responsible for promoting tourism in the state. The agency works to promote Mississippi as a destination for visitors from around the world. The agency is committed to providing information and resources to help visitors plan their trips to Mississippi. The Mississippi Office of Tourism is a key partner in the state’s tourism industry, helping to grow the economy and improve the quality of life for Mississippians.

Mississippi State Highway Commission

The Mississippi State Highway Commission is a state agency responsible for constructing, maintaining, and improving the state’s highway system. The commission is responsible for overseeing the construction of new highways, the improvement of existing highways, and the maintenance of the highway system. The commission is committed to providing safe and efficient transportation for all Mississippians.