

A waterfall in East Mississippi.

Small craft harbor and recreation center on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

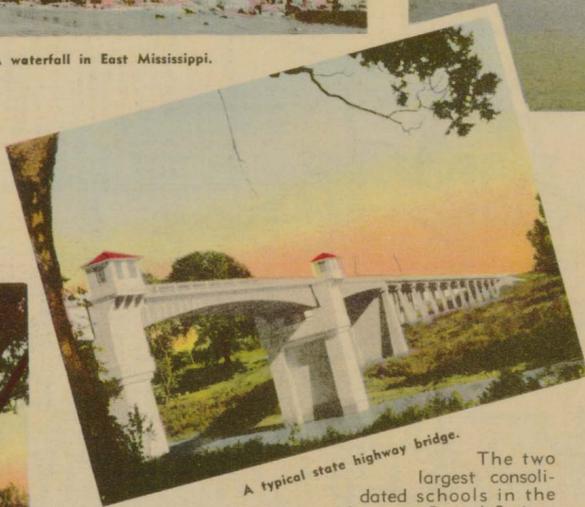

A typical ante-bellum home.

Hallway and winding staircase in a typical ante-bellum home built in 1790.

Shady and restful are Mississippi highways.

A typical state highway bridge.

The two largest consolidated schools in the world are at Crystal Springs and Cleveland, Mississippi. The largest dormitory in the world under one roof, and the largest college cafeteria in the United States, are at State College, Mississippi.

A typically aligned highway.

A Mississippi Gulf hotel.

By enacting into law practical rules of the road, Mississippi is endeavoring to protect travelers over our highways. Our highway patrolmen are courteous and efficient and will be pleased to assist you in every reasonable way.

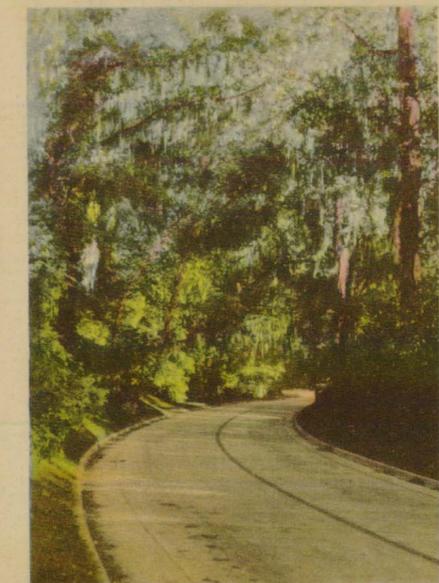

One of the beautiful state memorials in Vicksburg National Military Park.

Beauty on both sides of Mississippi paved highways.

OFFICIAL
HIGHWAY MAP
OF
MISSISSIPPI

Compliments
STATE
HIGHWAY
DEPARTMENT
Jackson

Tunneling through trees and banks

IT'S A FACT—

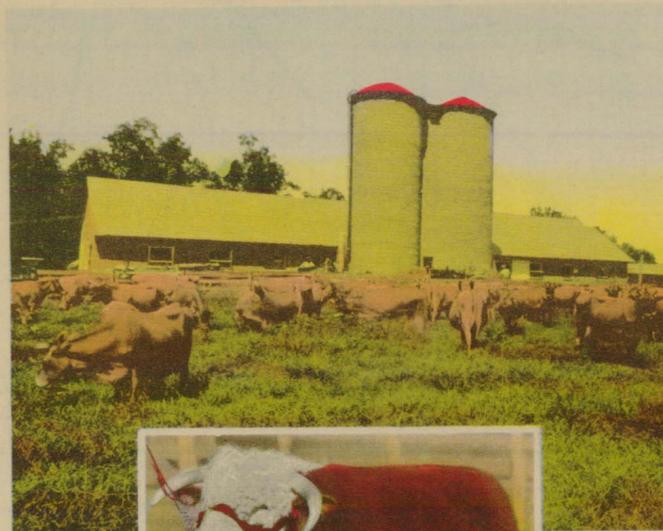

That the first concrete highway completed south of the Ohio River was in Lee County, Mississippi.

That the longest perfectly straight and level concrete highway in the United States is a 32-mile link on U. S. 61, north of Clarksdale, Mississippi.

That Mississippi is eighth in list of states in all-weather highways on the state system.

That Mississippi's four year program, begun in 1936, includes $85,000,000 for paved state highways.

That there is no gasoline tax diversion in Mississippi.

ABOVE— Dairy scene in North Mississippi.

LEFT— Specimen of beef cattle being developed in Mississippi.

An old time cotton scene.

Mississippi offers you an abundance of genuine hospitality, scenic beauty, historic lore and recreation. No matter at what point you enter our state, you sense that feeling of cordial friendship which enhances the pleasure of your visit with us.

Over modern highways, designed and constructed to provide the utmost in safety, all sections of Mississippi may be easily and quickly reached.

Here you find the fine old traditions and well preserved memorials of the Old South, intermingled with the modern progress of the New South.

Here you find a balmy climate and a profusion of flowers and foliage the year round — a climate ideal for the vacationist in summer and winter.

Tung oil trees in South Mississippi

